11:00 - 12:30

Panel of EUROPA (Entretiens Universitaires Réguliers pour l'Administration en Europe / Regular Academic Discussions on Public Administration in Europe)

How does the EUROPA Association Contribute to the Construction of a European Administrative Space?

Room: Room V Faculty of Law, Trg maršala Tita 14, Zagreb - 2nd floor

Chairs:

Marius Profiroiu, Bucharest Academy of Economic Studies, Bucharest, Romania

Anne Azam-Pradeilles, EUROPA Association, LIMOGES, France

This panel addresses the issue of the European administrative space in progress and how the EUROPA association contributes to the spread of standards and the increasing convergence of European administrative capacities. Each of the administrative models of the countries represented in EUROPA have specificities that result from their specific histories as well as from their legal systems mixing elements borrowed from others with elements already in their own cultures. The spread of EU standards has progressively led to an approximation and even a convergence between the different models. And it has helped strengthen and harmonise the administrative capacity of the different components of this European administrative space in progress.
